

Directed by Malinda L. Beckham

Feb. 21
Mar. 15
2014

For decades, Joseph Alsop was the most powerful journalist in the country. He was beloved, feared by the Washington political world. But as the '60s approached and American culture entered a time of dizzying change, the intense political drama Joe was embroiled in became deeply personal as well. A fascinating new play from the Tony award winning author of Proof.

Fridays and Saturdays at 8:00 pm
Sunday Matinee, Mar 2 at 3:00 pm

Reservations

Online – theatresouthwest.org

Email – tickets@theatresouthwest.org

Phone – (713) 661-9505